<sup>15</sup>“Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me? Or do you begrudge my generosity?” <sup>16</sup>So the last will be first, and the first last.”

In the parable of the laborers in the vineyard, Jesus told the story of the generous master who gave graciously to those who worked for him. More often than not, we are the same way. We expect and think we deserve more than what we have been given. But, the truth is, God’s generous grace extends to all His children, and the same gift of eternal life is available to us all. In this lesson, we will look at how this parable shows us who God is—He is good, generous, and gracious—and how He is always worthy of our trust.

1 Goodness

MATTHEW 20:1-4

When the master said that he would give the workers what is right, he gave the workers an opportunity to trust him. Just like the master, God’s goodness makes Him the most trustworthy master that we can serve. His plans are always for our best interest, and He makes abundant provision. What does God promise in Jeremiah 29:11? How have you seen this in your life?

2 Generosity

“But he replied to one of them, ‘Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?’” MATTHEW 20:13

(Read also MATTHEW 20:8-12.)

This seemingly unfair decision is actually a reflection of the master’s generosity. Similarly, Jesus encourages us to put our trust in God because He is endlessly generous and gives us better than we deserve. Why do you think we have a tendency to base God’s generosity on what others have rather than on who He is and what He gives us? How can we guard against comparison, grumbling, and entitlement?

3 Grace

<sup>13</sup>“But he replied to one of them, ‘Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?’ <sup>14</sup>Take what belongs to you and go. I choose to give to this last worker as I give to you. <sup>15</sup>Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me? Or do you begrudge my generosity?’ <sup>16</sup>So the last will be first, and the first last.” MATTHEW 20:13-16

The good and generous master extended grace to those who worked for him. In the same way, God extends grace to us—not because we deserve it, but because of who He is. God’s grace is best displayed for us by the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross. That’s why we don’t get what we deserve (mercy) and we get what we don’t deserve (grace). How did you understand what grace really is and how did this truth change your life?
